

Stephanie Dray Presents:

BAD GIRLS OF THE ANCIENT WORLD

A Talk About History's Most Infamous Women

Heir to one empire and prisoner of another, Cleopatra's daughter struggles to save her brothers and reclaim what's rightfully hers...

Sunday, January 9th, 2011
3 PM -5 PM

Constellation Books

303 Main Street
Reisterstown, MD 21136
410-833-5151

Stephanie Dray is a local author of a historical fiction series about Cleopatra's daughter, set in Augustan Age Rome. Her debut, Lily of the Nile, has received excellent reviews. To celebrate the release of her novel, Ms. Dray will give a short talk about the ancient women whose "bad behavior" influenced Cleopatra's daughter and the whole of the Western world.

After the talk, Stephanie will autograph books and give away swag. Refreshments will be served.

"Cleopatra Selene's struggle to understand herself and her destiny is universal... the story keeps you turning the pages until the end."

~ Diana Paxson, bestselling author and collaborator on the
MISTS OF AVALON series

STEPHANIEDRAY.COM